

Bamboo [GRAMINEAE (Grass) Family]

(Paul H., Bend, OR) The store owner of a local nursery put this, now reviving Bamboo plant out behind his shop for dead. He added Excelerite in the soil and watered it. In less than three weeks it came back to life and started to throw out new shoots! He was amazed and exclaimed that he has never seen anything affect a plant so positively --- so quickly.

Note the new shoots coming out of the ground both on the left and right side of the pot. The dead, brown leaves covered the entire Bamboo plant less than three weeks ago.

Epilogue: Week 5.
Now look at the once, thought-dead Bamboo plant!

Thanks, Excelerite!
